Helping babies grow to their full potential since 1974

Danville Child Development Center has been serving children ages birth to three years in the early intervention community since March 1974. Working as a team, our therapists, special instructors and service coordinator plan and deliver the best services possible for your child in the setting of your choice

Early intervention is a system of services that helps babies and toddlers with developmental delays or disabilities. Early intervention focuses on helping eligible babies and toddlers learn the basic and brand-new skills that typically develop during the first three years of life, such as:

*physical (reaching, rolling, crawling, and walking);

*cognitive (thinking, learning, solving problems);

*communication (talking, listening, understanding);

*social/emotional (playing, feeling secure and happy); and self-help (eating, dressing).

To determine eligibility, children participate in a play-based evaluation. Infants and toddlers, ages birth-3, who are determined to have special needs due to a developmental delay or diagnosis are then eligible to receive Early Intervention Services. These services are free and have no income guidelines.
